Plans Emerge As Homecoming Draws Near

THE FLOWER COMMITTEE is working hard to have flowers made for the Homecoming float. Those shown working from

"Homecoming '69 is just two weeks away and things are becoming hectic for the chairman of this special occasion. Meetings have to be held for work on the float. Jobs like securing cars, arranging work with the half-time band and getting dates are some of the final preparations being taken care of.

"The majority of the kids have been working very hard. The chairmen are all busy planning and constructing their ideas. Norma Goss has been a great head chairman and homecoming should turn out to be very enjoyable," surmises Pam Wagner.

The dance band for homecoming has been acquired although the name of the group be being withheld. The float was acquired October 1, and is presently being perfected to the point where it will be suitable enough to seat a queen and her princesses.

Student Congress recently approved a request for a new false ceiling to decorate the gym, as opposed to a ceiling of parachutes, which were used in the past. This year the committee will embark on a ceiling of cheesecloth. The cost will amount to $125.

It was let out by the girls on this committee that the fellas had better get their dates within two weeks of the dance. It usually takes the girls that long to make all the preparations for the occasion! For some girls it doesn't take quite that long though. Quotes Sue Webb, "I'd be ready within an hour of the dance. My dress would be waiting in the doorway."

"We would like to have a big turnout at homecoming because the band promises to be real good. Everybody ought to get a date and have a good time," says Donna Jaedicke.

The organizers of Homecoming '69 are Norma Goss, chairman, Debi Hayes, inside chairman, Marla Welker, decorations, Donna Jaedicke, band, Melinda Fennema, Alumni Tea, Debbie Seager, outside chairman, Bill Sixta, float chairman, Gary Gieber, float co-chairman, Pam Wagner, half-time, Diane Kepler, flowers and Marie Townsend, publicity.

Srs Plunge Into Testing Program

Naturally, after a student has completed his first two years of high school, and becomes a senior, he is most concerned with the questions; Should I attend college? And, if so, what college should I attend?

Planning for college may help the student avoid some troublesome pressures if it is focused on a major question, what do I know about myself?

This is where the ACT test, for seniors only, can help you.

The major purpose of the ACT Test Battery is to provide a simple way for a student to compare his abilities in various fields with people around him.

The first part of the ACT Battery consists of the Student Profile section, which takes approximately 25 minutes to complete. This section gives you an opportunity to tell prospective colleges about your goals, background, financial aid, etc.

The second part of the ACT Battery consists of four tests that estimate your ability in English, mathematics, social studies, and natural sciences. These tests are designed to measure your knowledge, techniques, and ability to reason in the four areas. It takes approximately 40 minutes to complete each test.

The ACT English usage test is composed of prose passages with certain sections underlined. For each underlined part, four alternatives are given, and you must decide which one is correct. The test is designed to measure your ability to write correctly and effectively.

The ACT mathematics usage test is a test of mathematical reasoning ability. Advanced arithmetic, algebra, and geometry are the principal areas tested.

The ACT social studies reading test is made up mainly of reading passages and questions. The questions are designed to measure evaluative reasoning and problem-solving skills required in the social sciences.

The ACT natural sciences reading test consists of reading passages on natural science topics and individual items on general background knowledge. Passages and items are sampled from the areas of biology, chemistry, physics, geology, and astronomy, with special emphasis on biology.

If you plan to apply to one of the 1,700 colleges or scholarship agencies participating in the ACT Program, register early in the registration period for the test date you prefer. At Washington testing dates are: October 18, December 13, and February 21. For information on when to register, visit the counselors office, as additional information is given.

The fee for taking the ACT examination is six dollars, and should be returned in the registration envelope.

All midwestern colleges and universities with the exception of Baker and Ottawa, require students who wish to be admitted to take the test.

Another test of high importance is the SAT Exam, also for seniors only.

It is for all seniors who plan to apply for admittance to Baker, Ottawa, one of the military academies, or a college or university on the east or west coast.

This is a three-hour objective test designed to provide a standard measure of verbal and mathematical abilities.

Achievement tests in the following areas are available; American history and social studies, English composition, European history and world cultures, German, Latin, Mathematics level I, physics, Spanish, biology, chemistry French, Hebrew, literature, mathematics level II, and Russian.

Costs for the SAT Exam only is $5.50. For 1, 2, or 3 achievement tests, $8.50.

Test dates are as follows; November 1, December 6, January 10, March 7, May 2, and July 11.

If you plan to take any of the achievement tests, plan to take them on the December 6 test date, as no test will be offered on November 1.

Debaters Gather

Forty-five high schools from parts of Kansas and Missouri have been invited to participate in the annual Washington High School Invitational Debate Tournament to be held next weekend, Friday and Saturday, October 17 and 18.

Mr. H. D. Neill, principal, will welcome the debaters at the general assembly 12:45 Friday afternoon. Each school is allowed to send three teams. Mr. J. B. Gould, WHS debate coach, expects about 100 teams to attend the tournament.

The students will be involved in 300 rounds of debate which are judged by faculty and citizens of the community. In the past judges have been difficult to find but the cooperation this year has been much better.

The Chairman of the National Forensic League (NFL) of Washington this year is Joe Patton, senior.

Among the schools invited are, in Kansas: Emporia, Fredonia, Hutchinson, Junction City, Lawrence, Leavenworth, Manhattan, Newton, Olathe, Osage City, Pittsburg Russell, St. John, Salina, Shawnee Mission East, Shawnee Mission North, Shawnee Mission Northwest, Shawnee Mission South, Shawnee Mission West, Topeka West, and of course, Wyandotte. High schools coming from Missouri include Raytown, Raytown South, Oak Park, Truman, and Rockhurst.

New Cheerleading System Causes Student Dissent Among Classes

Washington High School has installed for this year a new system of cheerleading. As opposed to the traditional system of each class having its own group of girls, this year they will embark on a plan of one solid team of cheerleaders.

There are a total of six senior girls and ten junior girls on the squad. This story will present both the juniors and the seniors point of view.

"I feel that the present system of sixteen varsity cheerleaders is a terrible idea. Sixteen is an unrealistic number because it is too hard to work with. I also feel that there should be at least an equal amount of seniors on the squad in order to fairly represent the seniors on the varsity teams," stated Pat Hobbs, senior co-captain.

Senior cheerleaders on the squad include Cindy Dennis, Susan Debonis, Sharon Phillips, Marsha Gahm, and Martie Snyder.

The juniors on the squad are Marla Welker, Margaret Lind, Peggy Toevs, Lynn Mustain, Vicki Mosley, Joann Palaskas, Jo Sandgren, Cheryl Hodges, Lee Ann Somers, and Barb Verbenic.

Margaret Lind said "I think Mr. Clarke is doing a good job for working the system that was presented to him. I don't like the system, because it's too hard to work with."

Peggy Toevs cites her opinion as such, "I don't think they should have done it, when we voted it down in the Student Council. It would be easier with the old system.

"I think the seniors have accepted graciously what they were confronted with."

Cheryl Hodges says, "I think now that we have our squad split into eight and eight it will be a lot better, then we just alternate each week.

"We were elected cheerleaders to represent Washington High School. It seems to me this should be our main objective."

The squad of sixteen was split into eight and eight. Each week the squads alternate cheering at the varsity games. The other squad covers the various meets.

Lynn Mustain quotes, "I think the reason people are disappointed with it is because it's the first year of the change. Next year and the years after that will be better.

"I'd like to have two squads, but this way the seniors aren't obligated to go to all the meets, and we can cover them better."

Martie Snyder, senior co-captain, sums up her views with this quote, "The election of sixteen cheerleaders has caused problems instead of solving them. Not only is it hard for sixteen girls to get along, but it also gives the appearance of a drill team rather than a cheerleading squad. Under this system only a part of a squad (three to four people) will be present to support events other than varsity football.

"Neither the junior or senior classes will be adequately represented at their respective sports, except varsity football games where the junior class will be over-represented.

"The purpose behind changing the system has been completely defeated by dividing the single squad into two permanent squads.

"If two squads were needed, why weren't two squads elected as such?" concluded Martie Snyder.

Bond Issue 'Hot' Again

EDITORIAL ON SCHOOL BOND

Presently the Kansas City, Kansas Board of Education is studying a new bond proposal. Passing of the new issue will relieve overcrowding at Washington High, Coronado Junior High, Arrowhead Junior High, and many grade schools.

If the bond passes the Board will construct a new high school at 59th Street and Parallel which will take 1,000 students from Washington to help put the number of enrollees at our school down to its normal figure. The revenue will provide for a new junior high at 72nd Street south of Leavenworth Road. This will relieve pressures at both Arrowhead and Coronado by providing capacity for about 1,000 students. Currently Arrowhead is on half-day schedules and Coronado is headed that way in a hurry. The new junior high will help to alleviate this condition. Pressing crowds exist at our elementary schools. These conditions will be remedied by modifications at these schools.

As has been explained in an earlier issue of the paper, over-

Club Memberships - To Rise Or Fall

If you have a couple free hours after school, then you are eligible to participate in a few clubs at Washington this year. Due to the tremendous overcrowding at W.H.S., almost all of the clubs have been forced to meet after school.

This action is, however, somewhat of a disadvantage to many interested students. Many different clubs meet on the same night and, therefore, a student crowding is a real problem; but there is another reason that you as adults should see this bond through. If the bonds are not ok'd then the developing, as far as housing goes, in west Wyandotte County, will grind to a halt in two years or less. The house you presently own will be hurt as far as value goes, and the market will be sharply curtailed.

According to Dr. O. L. Plucker, Superintendent of Schools, in a news conference which he held for a group of students, Washington High School will definitely be on half day sessions during the 1970-71 school year and will continue that way until the new high school is built. Quality education which Washington has prided itself for maintaining in the past will certainly go by the way until this situation is remedied.

The responsible adults of this community have a keen responsibility to see this bond passed for the sake of the children and youth of the community. Remember only the adults can put this bond over, so you must let nothing deter you from voting "yes" in early 1970.

Teacher's Fund Travels To College

Mr. Wilson, now deceased, taught history at WHS for nine years. He started his teaching career in the year 1957. Emporia was his hometown and where he attended college.

ALTHOUGH DEFACING THE school property is against the policy, the so-called "spoiler" has disregarded it.

'Spoiler' Deserves Scorn

"Spoiler," "JBOW," "John Henry" on the outside band room wall.

"JBOW" on the cafeteria door.

Someone has been painting on the parking lot. Are these childish finger paintings meant to be cute? If so, the cuteness is certainly lacking except maybe to the eyes of those who wrote it.

One might receive a few kicks out of such tricks, but the first kick should doubtless be a kick right out of school. Think of what outsiders think upon seeing these things. This is a high school, not a kindergarten art class. If you want attention or your name in print try doing something for someone instead of to someone.

Then you might have your name put in the newspaper instead of scrawled all over the bathroom wall.

These next comments are specially dedicated to the people that painted on the walls of WHS and on the parking lot: If you people want others in our community to think that all WHS students are as immature as you, you are going about it in the correct way; but maybe the other students at WHS don't wish to be looked upon in the same light as you people are. So just wise up, grow up, or shut up. It will benefit you greatly . . .

'Nazz Nazz' Hits Streets

If you're looking for the album Nazz Nazz, you'd better look hard. It seems that the four guys from Philadelphia, Pennsylvania, have really been causing some commotion in the pop music field.

Nazz Nazz is the follow up to their first album, which has the same name as the band, Nazz. Their talent reaches from the heavy acid sound of "Under the Ice," to the smooth mellow sound of "Letters Don't Count," and then to the jazz sound of "A Beautiful Song." Their Beatle-like harmony of "Hang On Paul" is followed up by an old time rock 'n roll song called "Kiddie Boy."

The former lead guitar player, Todd Rundgren, wrote all of the songs on the album. Rumors say that he is one of the lucky guys who have been taken into the armed service. Stookey, the organ player and for the most part the lead singer, has a talent of singing off-key and making it sound

Letter To The Editor

Dear Editor:

We, of the Senior class, have already been exposed to a petition concerning the election of our cheerleaders and subsequent forming of our cheerleading squad. It is being circulated by people who advocated the changing of our election procedures last year. They now want to revert to the old, less useful process, rather than to submit to Junior influence, which they earned on the

Counselor Helps Students In Seeking Employment

Through the efforts of Mr. J. E. Henderson, counselor, students who might want to join several clubs may find it impossible.

Students must also arrange for rides home and decide which meeting they wish to attend. It was hopeful that club memberships would increase this year, but since many students are not able to stay for these meetings, it may not work out as planned.

Last year, clubs that met during the homeroom period had a great record of attendance. Many people say this is only because they had an opportunity to get out during the homeroom.

When the difference in memberships between years has been decided, it will be clear just how many students there are interested in these clubs.

Scholarships, Loans To Help Seniors

Planning for college is a major concern for many seniors each year and this year is no exception. Each student must decide on which college to go to, what subject to major in, and most important, the financial problem of obtaining the money that faces most students.

Colleges have now made financial problems easier by offering scholarships, loans, and part time jobs. A shortage of educational funds can be overcome in a variety of ways, such as the following:

—Academic scholarship. This is awarded on the basis of the applicants high school record and academic potential.

—General Scholarships. This is on an applicant's high school record, academic potential and financial need.

—Grants-in-aid. These are gift awards and no repayment is required.

—Student loans. Most colleges have loan funds for students to be paid back with little or no interest.

part of the amount of money in the fund.

Students now have a chance to apply for a scholarship or loan by sending references to Kansas State Teachers College, Emporia, in care of the Mr. Wilson Memorial Fund.

The amount of money received is based on the student's need. A student must rely on his ACT and PSAT test results. His qualifications are based on his or her past record. The financial state of the student's parents and their need of money are also part of the requirements considered.

—Part time work. Most places have work programs that offer students jobs to obtain money.

—Cooperative education programs. In these the student spends maybe several hours a week in the classroom and on a job in his chosen field.

—Federal Programs. These include the National Defense Student Loans, a program of borrowing; College Work Study, a program of employment; Educational Opportunity Grants, a program of direct awards; and the Guaranteed Loan Program, a program of borrowing.

For more information, contact your counselor, for he can give you more definite answers on the cost of colleges and a way to obtain the money.

Remember that your choice of college about which you plan to attend should not depend entirely upon the cost. You should go to the one which will help you the most in the particular field you are majoring in.

cheerleading squad.

"To preserve the distinction of the Senior class," is a paraphrasing of the purpose of this petition. "The Juniors are taking over" is a more apt meaning being expressed. Why does it matter who, whether Junior or Senior, does the cheerleading, as long as it is done well and in support of Washington.

We will be acting in a completely selfish way if this idea is carried on through. We are disregarding the image of W.H.S. and promoting conflict between classes. I say, "Why elect a poor Senior when we have an excellent example of exuberance in a Junior?" I don't think this is too much of a sacrifice when our cheerleading squad is at stake.

From The Editor

This year the Washingtonian will not be able to be published every Friday due to a lack of funds.

The money from part of the Activity Ticket is, on the most part, what the paper operates on. This year the sale of the Activity Ticket was lower than last year even though the school has increased in the number of students.

However, this problem can be used to advantage. Since the paper does not have to be rushed off in one week, the Washingtonian staff will be able to devote more time and effort to make a better and sometimes a larger newspaper. This also gives the staff time for special issues between the regular papers.

I am confident that our school newspaper will be something that, not only the Washingtonian staff will be proud of, but that all students and faculty of Washington High School should, can, and will be proud of!

STUCO NEWS

"The Student Congress" is the new name adopted for the Student Council this year.

In addition to a name change, there will also be several other new features added to StuCo. In the past few years, StuCo representatives were required to have at least a 3.0 grade average. "This requirement has been dropped completely," according to Marie Townsend, StuCo vice president, "to give all students equal representation and a chance to serve on StuCo."

Proportioning the number of representatives per class size is still another twist to this year's StuCo. Marie also stated that every 33 students would have a representative. For example a lecture class like P.A.D. or Biology could be represented by three or four students.

The presidents of all school clubs will also be members. This will help to organize the school's activities.

"We will also try to hand out the minutes of the meeting on the same day that it is held," Marie said.

Sophomore orientation and the first PTA meeting are two of the projects that StuCo has already sponsored this year. Folders containing the school rules and the WHS floor map will soon be up for sale.

Posters made for StuCo projects will be made by members, with the assistance of the Art Club.

StuCo is also sponsoring a "gripe session" with Mr. Neill and council officials. The time and place will be announced.

Once again, WHS has adopted a Filipino boy. StuCo corresponds with him throughout the year. StuCo is also keeping in touch with Baby WHS, the major project of last year.

Sophomore English Teacher Acts As Performer

A summer job at Starlight resulted in a personal dresser for Mr. Ed Ellis, sophomore English and music theory teacher. Mr. Ellis performed in seventeen scenes with eleven costume changes in the play "George M."

He has performed for three summers at Starlight, and has appeared in 25 different productions.

During the past two summers he has worked as a tenor in Starlight. The summer after his senior year in high school he was also a member of the cast at Starlight.

"I doubt if I'll go back. I may get my masters," Mr. Ellis answered.

The daily schedule from Monday through Friday included rehearsals from 10:30 to 4:30. After the performance on Saturday evening there was a dress rehearsal of next week's production. This rehearsal lasted from 12:00 to 5:00 a.m.

Tryouts were held last February for the 1969 Starlight singers and dancers. A total of 45 members were cast. They included nine female singers, eighteen male singers, twelve female dancers, and six male dancers.

Mr. Ellis stated he had no preference over teaching school or acting and singing. Instead of performing a personality on stage, you attempt to perform education in the field of teaching.

Although there are a few mix-ups in each production. "Mame" had an especially funny one. After the main dance routine, a dancers skirt fell off while she was on stage. The audience and the actors on stage burst out laughing. Composure was gained by the actors on stage and the song was completed.

Mr. Ellis is now in his ninth year of studying voice. He has studied the piano for the last eighteen years, and will continue playing it for the rest of his life.

Mr. Ellis has performed three years in Starlight, two years in the Lyric Opera, and four years in performing arts. He made his debut with the Kansas City Philharmonic Orchestra when he was 20 years old.

While he was attending college he started out to obtain a major in music. However, after two years he decided to change to English. He switched over so he could use his music abilities in singing, rather than teaching music.

For most of his life Mr. Ellis has had a dream of leading a professional career in the theater.

Mayor Publishes

Students interested in boning up on local history will find a new source of material in the history of Kansas City, Kansas, by Mayor Joseph H. McDowell, to be published serially by The Kansas City Kansan.

Titled, "Building a City, a History of Kansas City, Kansas," the series will be published three times a week. The first installment appeared on page one Monday, September 22. The feature is now appearing on the editorial page.

The McDowell work is the only comprehensive history of this community written since 1935. "Building a City" is a developing chronicle of significant movements, persons and events of the past half century. It stresses local history of such recent dates as to be interesting to young people and their parents.

A Cappella Stages Concert

In the music department here at WHS many changes have occurred. One of these is the new choir robes.

There are 75 new robes, more than enough to outfit the A Capella choir. The robes were purchased from the Peterson Cap and Gown company, who also provides the cap and gowns for graduation. The total cost for the robes was $1900. To help pay for these robes, the choir presented a concert last year with the Lions club. Because the goal was not reached, the choir will give a concert to be held October 28, in the school auditorium. The cost will be 50 cents. A sum of $400 is still needed before the task will be accomplished.

League Play Begins

Gridders Host S-M North

The Washington High gridders start their conference schedule tonight when Shawnee Mission North travels here to tangle the Wildcats. It is Parent's night.

North's record stands at 2 and 1 while Washington is 1 and 2. North opened their season by annihilating Shawnee Mission Northwest 63 to 0. Shawnee Mission South (now number one rated in the state) stopped the Indians 18 to 5, while last week North clipped Shawnee Mission East 27 to 20.

The Wildcats meanwhile have encountered difficulty finding the goal line. Washington has failed to score in ten consecutive quarters. The last touchdown scored was in the second quarter of the Leavenworth contest. In last week's outing Wyandotte cut down the Big Red 30 to 0.

Last year North and Washington battled to a 20 to 20 tie, which stopped North's consecutive win streak which was two years old. North went on to win the Sunflower title and the top ranking in the state polls.

North's offense is paced by senior quarterback, Steve Howard, and junior halfback, Dave Specht.

Washington's offensive hopes revolve around three quarterbacks, Mike Hampton, Rex Sharp, and Dennis Tidwell. The line and backfield remain relatively the same although a few stitches have been made from one side to the other at halfback, guard, and tackle.

Washington has four league games against North, Topeka West, Lawrence, and Shawnee Mission West which ultimately lead to the state playoffs (See related story).

With the three non-conference games in the background and most of the injured back at full strength, the Big Red start playing for keeps tonight on the "golden brown" stadium turf starting at 7:30.

Sophs Tie Bulldogs

After being swept over by the Ward Cyclones 22-8 September 25, the Washington Wildcat sophomores recovered enough to tie the hated Wyandotte sophs 0 to 0 on October 2.

"The boys played an outstanding defensive game but made too many mistakes on offensive blocking assignments," said Coach John Novosel. He was also pleased that his gridders didn't fumble for the first time this season.

Speaking about the Ward game Coach Novosel said, "We weren't mentally ready and Ward is the hardest hitting team we'll play this year."

The Wyandotte game was a defensive battle all the way with each team really threatening only once during the course of the tied. Washington controlled the ball for 23 plays while Wyandotte had it only 13.

After Washington kicked off to start the second half the Bulldogs drove all the way down to the Wildcat ten-yard line where they fumbled and the 'Cats recovered. This drive of Wyandotte's consumed all but 1:34 of the third quarter as the 'Cats were able to run only two plays before the end of the third quarter.

After a change of possessions the 'Cats got the ball back and with only two minutes left they drove down to the Bulldog 20 where two passes went astray. As

New Setup For Conference

Sunflower League Football, like many of the other sports at the professional and college levels, is resorting to a divisional setup for the 1969 season.

The league is divided into two divisions being known as the Eastern and Western divisions. The change from straight league play had to be made because of the addition of Lawrence and Shawnee Mission Northwest.

The Western division consists of Washington, Shawnee Mission North, Shawnee Mission West, Topeka West, and Lawrence. The Eastern division sports Wyandotte, Shawnee Mission East, Topeka, Shawnee Mission South, know its league standing by the league playoffs at the end of the regular season. The first place team in each division will play for the title and the second place team in each division play for third place and so on down the line.

More than likely the winner of first place honors will compete in the state tournament. However, this does not hold true if one of the 4-A schools win the title. If one of the 4-A schools, (Lawrence and Topeka, possibly) win the title they will compete for the state title in the 4-A classifica-game. Statistics show how close the game was as Washington had only 115 total yards and Wyandotte only 81. The Bulldogs didn't attempt a pass while the 'Cats tried 12 but could only complete three. In the first half both teams played it tight and little was setand Brock ran out quarterback Tom Crilly was dropped for a 12-yard loss.

Although the league is split into two divisions every team will tion and the runner-up in the Sunflower League will represent the league for 5-A honors.
